

*Tis a gift to be simple
Tis a gift to be free
Tis a gift to come down
Where you ought to be
And, when you find yourself
In a place just right
It will be in a valley
Of love and delight
From a Shaker Hymn*

Together we can Preserve, Protect and Enhance the quality of life In Pleasant Valley
For ourselves, our children and our children's children!

CITIZENS FOR THE PRESERVATION OF PLEASANT VALLEY, IN SOUTHERN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Pleasant Valley is a gift, a beautiful valley nestled along the Appalachian Trail, the C&O Canal, and Harper's Ferry National Park sites. Our vistas with views of the valley and the Potomac River are also home to diverse wildlife.

The area is rich in history ranging from migrations of Native Americans and early settlers and the race between the railroads and C&O barges for commerce to extensive involvement in the Civil War era.

Simply put, Citizens for the Preservation of Pleasant Valley (CPPV) is a non-profit corporation set up by a group of citizens interested in preserving the quality of life in Pleasant Valley and the surrounding areas.

CPPV continues to work on issues that are important to you such as: Government accountability, Public Safety, Care of the Environment, Historical Conservation, Access to services and the Support of small, local businesses

We are the land of the free, but we must exercise our rights by participating in local, state and federal government decisions affecting our area.

CPPV plans to educate and provide listening forums for our elected officials and others in which to participate as a tool for engagement in sensitive and important topics.

Pleasant Valley can be where it ought to be with your help. Join us as an active member or sign up for our e-mail alerts.
